

Take part in the scientific dialogue between EAST & West -
Find your partner institution with incrEAST!

www.increast.eu

Take part in the scientific dialogue between EAST & West – Find your partner institution with incrEAST!

Numerous questions often arise before science collaboration can actually begin:

- Which institutions are currently working in my target region?
- Who is active in my research field?
- Where are potential host organizations for European researchers located?
- How can I contact them?

A new database for key institutions and a list of host institutions on incrEAST provide answers to these questions.

The web site www.increast.eu/en/523.php helps you to find the best research partners from Eastern Europe and Central Asia for your projects. The service includes a description of activities and first-hand contact data of research institutions and universities.

You can browse the database by

- country, and/or
- research topic within FP7 and FRASCATI, and/or
- type of organization.

External users are encouraged to contribute current information –
Please contact the incrEAST editorial office: incrEAST@dlr.de

